

PC-Interface™ connects your PC to your multiuser UNIX® system.

Imagine a software solution that gives your PC multiuser and multitasking capabilities. Transparently. Without leaving your PC environment.

You'd have the perfect connectivity solution.

You'd have PC-Interface from Locus Computing.

With PC-Interface you share information with other PC users. Run programs from a centralized file system. Share peripherals and other output devices. Even access the UNIX host file system directly. Without the expense, complication, and compatibility problems of most Local Area Networks. And without investing in a dedicated network file server.

Order your $750 Development System today.

Now you can experience the best of both worlds for just. That's the special price of our 4-user PC-Interface development system. (A $750 savings over the regular price.) To order, call Jan Jeter at (213) 452-2435. Or write for further information to: Locus Computing, 3330 Ocean Park Blvd., Santa Monica, CA 90405.

Join the more than 100,000 PC users who have found PC-Interface a low-cost, easy-to-use integration of the best of the UNIX and DOS environments.

And experience, first-hand, the joys of peaceful coexistence.

Dear Sir:

Hasn't anybody questioned your advertisement showing President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev wearing ladies' coats?

Very truly yours,
